Thanksgiving

Pre-K News

K4

“Our K4 class is continuing to learn new letters, numbers, and blends. They are doing exceptionally well learning their Bible verses. We have had a great time celebrating all of the fall festivities and are excited to start learning about Thanksgiving and the true meaning of Christmas.”

-Mrs. Brittney Elliott & Mrs. Julie Copeland

Elementary News

Kindergarten

“Our K5 class is having a great fall so far! We are reading “Flat Stanley” and we also went to visit the Centreville Post Office and mailed our Flat Stanley letters. We had a fun field trip to the pumpkin patch at Yeargan’s Farm. In social studies, the students talked about George Washington Carver and learned about the things he invented. Please come to our Fall Festival this weekend to see our peanut project and purchase some roasted or boiled peanuts. We wish everyone a happy Thanksgiving.”

-Mrs. Valeria Mays & Mrs. Sheila Allen

First Grade

“Our class has had such a busy month! We are happy that our homecoming project won third place. The students made wonderful posters, and piggy banks. We are learning a lot of fun facts about pigs too. Please come see the posters and pig projects. Always be joyful. Nehemiah 8:9.”

- Mrs. Steele & Mrs. Creel

Second Grade

“October was a busy month for second grade. We started out the month by talking about fossil fuels and natural resources in Science. Currently, we are talking about cows. During math, we are working on subtraction with regrouping. All students are doing an excellent job with this difficult concept. During this month, we started on a book publishing project. We are working on a book and will send it off to a publishing company to have it published in a hard bound book! We’re so excited for November’s events which include the Veteran’s Day program, our field trip to CHOM (and Chick-fil-a) in Tuscaloosa, and Thanksgiving!

-Ms. Barbara Czeskleba

Third

“We are enjoying our book “Little House in the Big Woods.” It is interesting to see how people lived so long ago. We made pancake men just like Laura and Mary, characters in the book. Our class is busy leaning multiplication, branches of government and new parts of speech. Third grade is super busy!”

-Mrs. Angie Koch

Fourth Grade

“Our class is very busy learning something new every day. We are reading The Little House in the Big Woods, along with Mrs. Koch’s third grade class and we may even finish it in time for Thanksgiving. We are also happy to welcome a new student, David Jackson.”

-Mrs. Deborah Clark

Sixth Grade

6th grade is cotton crazy this month for the Fall Festival! The students designed the Fall Festival t-shirts and we’ve sold around 100 of them! We, along with 5th grade, are also excited about our upcoming field trip to the World of Coke & Georgia Aquarium in Atlanta. We are also doing some creative writing in class right now.

TidBits

“Leah Hyche recently won second place with her speech, ‘The Ideal Teacher’, in the AISA State Oratorical Competition; she also placed first in the district competition.”

“German class celebrated Oktoberfest with a German meal. Each student received a German recipe to prepare for the class and then they brought vegetable and meat dishes with two delicious desserts.”

From the Principal’s Desk

“We have much to be thankful for and we give much praise to our Father in Heaven for the many blessings He has sent us. Praise God! Please remember our students, faculty, and staff in your prayers. Please support them in their activities, fund raisers, and team sports. I want to thank God for His grace during my tenure as principal. I also want to thank the parents for their prayers and the faculty and staff for their hard work. Most people do not know what goes in to the everyday activities of CCA. Again, please pray for us!”

-Rev. Tim Bonds
